PERSONALS.

Mrs. Fred Marcotte entertained a company of relatives and the members of the Don't Worry Club of which she is 2nd vice president, on Friday evening in honor of her birthday. There were 22 present and a happy time was spent in playing whist and listening to music by a ladies' orchestra composed of Miss Glenn Robinson, violin; Mrs. H. B. Carpenter, cornet; and Miss Mary Carpenter, piano. The Don't Worry Club presented their hostess with six silver teaspoons and two table spoons and she also received other presents including money and a post card shower. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hooker of Cliff street, announce the engagement of their son, Lloyd Garrison of Ludlow, Mass., to Miss Helen Staat of Springfield, Mass. The marriage will be solemnized June 17 after which the young people will spend two weeks with Mr. Hooker's parents in this village.

Last week in the challenge round of the Boston University Tennis tournament Ray W. Spaulding successfully defended his title and won permanently the championship cup. The challenger was S. Reeve of Kenwood, N. Y., and the score was 6-4; 4-6; 6-4; 7-5. The match was stubbornly contested requiring 7 1/2 hours of play.

There were nine tables at play last week Tuesday evening at the card party given by St. John de Crevecoeur Chapter, D. A. R., at the home of Mrs. E. H. Ross. Bridge was played at all the tables save one. The head prizes were won by Miss Caroline D. Ely and Lindol M. Scott and the foot prizes by Miss Mary E. Ide and Mrs. Herbert F. Balch. Refreshments were served.

C. F. Palmer and Mrs. E. H. Ross and W. J. Aldrich plan to sail on June 24, from Philadelphia on the Merion of the American line to spend the summer in travel in Europe.

Mrs. W. H. Worthen, Raymond Worthen, Misses Maud Cleary and Irma Brainard enjoyed a pleasant automobile ride to Lancaster, N. H., last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett were in North Troy from Friday until Tuesday.

Miss Isabel Cross accompanied her aunt, Miss Sadie Hooker, home from Windsor last week and is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hooker.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wadleigh spent Sunday in Concord.

Reginald Fisk was a recent guest of Ray W. Spaulding in Boston and returned home last week Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roy of Barnet spent Sunday at F. F. Carrick's.

Mrs. Harry Davis of Danville spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Severance.

Mrs. Frank W. Ball visited friends in Wheelock last week.

Miss Isabel Gaskill was at home from Westbury, Mass., to spend Sunday and the holiday.

Harry M. Nelson and family spent Sunday at West Burke.

Mrs. Christina Braley spent part of last week in Boston.

Mrs. Chauncey Adams of Irasburgh underwent a serious operation at Brightlook on Tuesday and yesterday was reported to be doing as well as could be expected.

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of the groom Friday noon, when Crawford Ranney was united in marriage to Miss Fannie E. Russell, before a few friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward T. Fairbanks. The bride wore her traveling suit of blue broadcloth and they were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Ranney spent a few days in Boston and have returned to their home here.

The marriage of Harold L. Miner son of Dr. and Mrs. Mark L. Miner of Greenfield, Mass., and Mrs. Maude A. Belknap, took place at St. Andrew's church, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, before a few family friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. P. Grint and there were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Miner are spending a short time in New York and will reside here on their return.

Editor Bigelow of the Caledonian hints in an editorial printed elsewhere in reply to the suggestion of the name of Hon. Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, St. Johnsbury may have a candidate for governor in Lieut.-Gov. Slack. Does this close the matter of entries?—[Burlington Free Press.]

The Boys' Opportunity. The Agricultural and Industrial Department of Lyndon Institute in Lyndon, established by Hon. T. N. Vail of Lyndonville, has been in existence only since last October, yet the second annual catalog just issued shows that the school is doing an important work.

The school has an excellent course of instruction and apparently a sufficient corps of instructors. The director says: "We want to aid all classes of boys to a good education along agricultural and industrial lines, but we are especially anxious that the boys throughout the state who are financially unable to go away to school, should become acquainted with this institution. We are offering a limited number of scholarships, whereby poor or needy boys may receive an education, providing they are willing to work for it, and we can furnish the work necessary to enable them to do this." With an opportunity like this no farmer boy in Vermont can truthfully say in after years that his life had not been the success it ought to be because when young he could not secure the necessary education. Opportunity knocks at every boy's door. The boy who opens the door and makes the most of his opportunity is the one who will push the front as an adult.

Years come and go.—[An Exchange.]

Fish and Game Interests. State Commissioner John W. Titcomb of the department of fisheries and game has issued a letter of information in relation to the posting of waters, methods of stocking and other matters of interest to sportsmen, which we reproduce full in another column.

Commissioner Titcomb has entered upon the work of the department of fisheries and game in a manner that promises much for the promotion of these interests, and it is no secret that he is putting no small part of his own salary into the work so enthusiastic is he in that connection.

That part of the letter of information which has greatest value for the State's interests is the suggestion as to the steps necessary to take in order to secure fry and fingerlings.

The law permits the commissioner to sell these, if any are left after the calls for stocking public waters have been met. Those wanting to buy trout next year should write the commissioner early this fall, and he will try to make arrangements for the future.

In this connection it is not to be overlooked that a landowner may prohibit shooting, trapping or fishing on his premises, and is given the legal right to make such prohibition effective. There must be conspicuous notices, however. But in order to take advantage of this provision it is necessary that the owner annually stock the waters at his own expense.

The law is so involved, however, that any person who starts in to take decided action will do well to secure a full copy of the fish and game laws and thoroughly post himself before he posts his premises. The same advice will apply to sportsmen who think of defying owners of land posted.—[Burlington Free Press.]

Watch Your Kidneys.

Their action controls your health. Read what Foley Kidney Pills have done for your neighbor, D. P. Ring, 1 Shipman Place, Montpelier, Vt., says: "For many years I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble. I had severe pains across my back, and my head was in a constant painful. I tried several kinds of kidney remedies but could get no help until I began taking Foley Kidney Pills. After a few days the pain left my back and my kidney action was free and natural. I gladly recommend Foley Kidney Pills to anyone suffering with kidney trouble." C. C. Bingham.

Boyd Guilty of Manslaughter

After four hours' deliberation the jury at Newfane in the case of Frank J. Boyd of Wilmington, charged with the murder of John Potter of that town, April 13, returned a verdict for manslaughter which is punishable by imprisonment of from one to 20 years. The case was given to the jury at 12.30 Wednesday afternoon and the jury returned its verdict at 4.30. Attorney General J. G. Sargent moved for immediate sentence but the court denied the motion. On April 13 John Potter, who at one time was employed by Frank J. Boyd, a farmer, went to the latter's place for the purpose of demanding certain money due him for wages. He found Boyd in his sugar house and during the altercation that ensued Potter received blows from a wooden sled stake from which he died. The defense in the trial, which has thus far ended, endeavored to prove that Potter was of a particularly quarrelsome nature and that he attacked Boyd, who struck him in return, in order to save his own life.

COLLEGE ATHLETES SET NEW FIGURES

Cornell Far In Lead In the Intercollegiate Meet

Cambridge, Mass., May 29.—Cornell's track team, reaping a harvest of 30 1/2 points on Soldiers field, won the twenty-sixth annual intercollegiate championships, taking the honors of a great track and field contest. Five intercollegiate records were broken and three equalled.

J. P. Jones of Cornell made a new world's record, 4 minutes, 15 2-5 seconds, in the mile.

Ralph Craig of Michigan won both sprints, equalling his own world record in the furlong dash.

George Chisholm of Yale captured both hurdle events, and Horner of Michigan made a new intercollegiate record in the shot put.

H. S. Babcock of Columbia defeated Yale's great pole vaulters and made a new intercollegiate record.

After winning the mile, Jones of Cornell repeated by setting up new figures in the half mile.

Cornell won the meet on account of the superiority of her distance runners, Berna of Cornell making a new record in the two-mile run.

THE WYOMING LAUNCHED

Will Be One of the Finest Fighting Ships in the World

Philadelphia, May 26.—"Go, brave ship; I christen thee Wyoming!"

The voice of one of Wyoming's daughters rang out as a magnum of champagne was hurled by Miss Dorothy Knight against the great Dreadnought at the Cramp shipyards.

The battleship Wyoming, unsurpassed by any fighting machine in the world, was floated. On the bridge with Miss Knight were dignitaries from Washington, a scattering of society from Washington and Philadelphia, and representatives of the state of Wyoming and other states in the union.

As the battleship was poised high in the air, nose up, in the ways, she towered above everything else but the steel crane which had been used in her construction. She looked like a veritable mountain.
